Indiana's job growth remains steady in June State post sixth straight month of over the year growth

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. – Today the Indiana Department of Workforce Development released preliminary June and revised May payroll employment figures for the state.

Compiled in conjunction with the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, payroll employment is calculated through a monthly survey of 7,500 Hoosier employers and is based on reported payroll figures. It is an estimate of non-agricultural jobs in Indiana businesses and does not include self-employed or agricultural workers.

Indiana's preliminary seasonally adjusted payroll employment for the month of June was 2,916,600 jobs; 4,100 more than in May and 27,800 more than existed in June 2003. The state's preliminary non-seasonally adjusted figures reported 2,915,300 jobs for the month; 15,300 more than June of 2003, but 19,600 fewer than in the previous month.

The nation's preliminary seasonally adjusted payroll employment figure grew by 112,000 jobs in June, reaching 131.3 million jobs. The country's preliminary non-seasonally adjusted payroll employment figure for June totaled 132.3 million jobs; a slight increase from May's (revised) 131.8 million jobs mark.

"The June jobs numbers show another month of positive year-over-year growth," said Alan Degner, commissioner of the Department of Workforce Development. "That in concert with improving revenue figures for the state, business investment taking place throughout the state and a decreasing unemployment rate continues to provide much encouragement that we've seen the worst of national recession."

"One of the interesting trends we traditionally see this time of year is a spike in unemployment primarily due to schools and institutions of higher education letting out for the summer. This is again the case when we look at the non-seasonally adjusted numbers."

Also released today were revised figures for May payroll employment. Revised seasonally adjusted numbers show that Indiana actually gained 2,200 new jobs from April to May, 600 more than reported in the preliminary estimate. May's non-seasonal figure was also revised to 2,934,900 total jobs, up from the 2,934,300 preliminary estimate.

Seasonally adjusted figures:

In June Indiana's economy gained 4,100 jobs from May (revised) to June (preliminary); 27,800 more than existed in June 2003. The total numbers of jobs, after the seasonal adjustment, in Indiana in June 2004 totaled 2,916,600, up from 2,888,800 last year.

Looking at the state's seasonally adjusted numbers by industry sector, Indiana's goods-producing sector reported employment of 727,600 in June. Of that figure, the manufacturing sector shed 1,000 jobs from May to June, to reach a total of 569,100. The construction sector saw employment hit 151,300 jobs, up 8,500 jobs over June 2003.

June payroll employment figures/add 1

Indiana's service-providing sector reported employment totaling 2,189,000 in June, up 5,900 jobs from May's revised seasonally adjusted number and 21,400 over June of 2003. Of that, the professional and business service sector grew by 6,800 jobs over the same period last year, reaching 258,900 jobs in June. The leisure and hospitality sector reported total seasonal employment of 272,200 while trade, transportation and utilities totaled 571,700 jobs. The education and health services sector reported 6,700 more jobs in June than May and 10,100 more than June of 2003.

(NOTE: ONLY LARGE INDUSTRY 'SUPERSECTORS' CAN BE DESCRIBED IN SEASONALLY ADJUSTED TERMS. FOR MORE SPECIFIC DETAIL ON INDUSTRIES, USE NON-SEASONALLY ADJUSTED NUMBERS)

Non-Seasonally adjusted figures:

Indiana's economy grew by .5 percent in June 2004 compared to June of last year, with 15,300 more jobs for the month. Compared to revised May non-seasonally adjusted figures, the state shed 19,600 jobs from May to June. The total number of Hoosier jobs reached 2,934,900 in June, compared to 2,900,000 in June 2003.

Breaking down the state's non-seasonal numbers by industry sector, Indiana's goods-producing sector reported employment of 739,200 in June, up 6,600 from May and 6,700 more from June 2003. Of that figure, the manufacturing sector grew by 2,900 jobs from May to June, to reach a total of 573,400 jobs. The construction sector saw employment grow by 3,700 jobs from May to June to total 158,600 jobs; 8,800 more than existed in June 2003.

Indiana's service-providing sector reported employment totaling 2,176,100 in June, up 8,600 from the same period last year, but down 26,200 jobs from May's revised numbers. Of that, the professional and business service sector also demonstrated growth, expanding by 500 jobs from May to June to reach 261,200 jobs in June. The leisure and hospitality sector grew by 2,900 to reach 282,800 total jobs for the month.

Sectors showing major declines in employment included government sectors and the educational and health sector. The government sector, which includes federal, state and local governments as well as schools showed the greatest decline, shedding 27,000 jobs from May to June. Of that local government education, or schools, lost 24,800 jobs over the month due to summer break, to total 131,500 jobs for June. The state government education sector, which is made up of the state's college and universities, also saw employment decline because of the summer break in classes. The sector reported 9,700 fewer jobs in June than May, to reach 61,900 jobs. The educational and health sector showed a loss of 6,500 jobs from May to June, to total 361,400 positions, 5,400 more than a year ago.

Looking at preliminary job numbers in the state's Metropolitan Statistical Areas (MSAs), the Fort Wayne area saw the most growth as compared to a year ago. The Fort Wayne MSA reported 2,600 more jobs than existed last year. The Bloomington area reported the second highest overall year-over-year growth, adding 2,100 jobs, followed by the Lafayette MSA which added 1,800 jobs over the year and the Terre Haute area which saw 1,600 more jobs in June 2004 than existed in the same month last year.

Through its various programs and initiatives, the Indiana Department of Workforce Development is charged with continually improving the Hoosier workforce by assisting companies to create new jobs and improve employee skills. The agency offers a variety of training and educational grants, partners with the state's 27 WorkOne Centers, administers the unemployment insurance system, provides labor market information, assists employers with preparing workers for layoffs and closures and operates a statewide job placement service.

June payroll employment figures/add 2

Technical Notes:

- Payroll employment is calculated through a monthly survey of 7,500 Hoosier employers and is based on reported payroll figures. It is an estimate of non-agricultural jobs in Indiana businesses and does not include self-employed or agricultural workers.
- In calculating employment figures, two different types of calculations are provided. The first, non-seasonally adjusted, provides information without taking into account the effects of seasonal trends. In calculating the seasonally adjusted information, employment that follows more or less a regular pattern each year, including holiday or summer employment is factored out of the estimate. The adjustments make it easier to observe the cyclical and other non-seasonal movements.
